The Political committee opinion regarding the recent creation of institutional committee for a new Syrian legislation,

The political committee considers that the Geneva process is the only path for a political solution in Syria.The political committee strongly deplores the manner which the Security Council resolutions have been chaotically implemented outside the correct order which has been set out by the security council, in particular resolution 2254 .The political committee strongly believes that resolution 2254 must be implemented in the correct order, starting with forming a transitional government, followed by releasing all detainees, and allowing unconditional humanitarian access across the country to all areas including camps and sieged areas, those are three non-negotiating bands must get implemented before moving to the constitutional committee and setting out a new legislation for Syria, the resolution should be ended with parliamentary election under united nation and independent international observers, the constitutional committee must be formed by unbiased, honest and well-known highly reputable Syrian legal experts, the new legislation must be approved by Syrian people through open referendum, and the legislation must be done in open manner away from any international interference.The current institutional committee does not meet the Syrian objective and aspiration, it has been formed outside Syria, in unhealthy environment, influenced by other countries working in favor of Assad regime, with biased and corrupted members, most of them are unknown to Syrian people, have no professional qualifications, no legal experience, they surely do not represent the Syrian people, and are not qualified to do the job.Security council resolutions must get implemented away from criminal Assad and his cronies, after both Russian and Iranian occupation ends and leave the country, after ISIS and all terrorist organizations in Syria get defeated.God bless Syria and Syrian people.The political committee for Syrian detainees .
